Searching for the Light...

Throughout Chanukah, 25 sentences and proverbs on the subject of light and joy will be hung throughout Beit Tovei Ha'ir.

We ask that you look out for the sentences and fill them out on the attached form (at the end of the bulletin).

A token prize is guaranteed to anyone who finds all the sentences by Thursday, the last day of Chanukah.

Want to take part in preparing the game? Suggest proverbs or hang them? Please contact Miriam at the Reception.

RESIDENTS WRITE...

When Arie and I joined the Beit Tovei Ha'Ir family nearly four years ago we came directly from our home in London, England, together with our daughter and her husband who had made all the arrangements for us. So, unlike most of the residents here, we had not been living in Eretz Yisrael beforehand although we had enjoyed many holiday visits over the years.

Naturally, there were a great deal of adjustments to make, one of which was LANGUAGE; no – I don't mean learning Ivrit [which is an ongoing process!]: most of the residents – many of whom do speak English – if not real Israelis, are from U.S.A. or Canada, and they do speak English but have a somewhat different vocabulary. Here are a few examples:

they say "elevator", but we say "lift";

they say "apartment", but we say "flat";

what they call a "purse" we call a "handbag";

what they call "wallet" we call "purse";

what they call a "robe" we call "dressing gown";

what they call "gown" we call "evening dress";

what they call "pants" we call "trousers";

when they say "diaper" we say "nappy";

when they say "vacation" we say "holiday";

what they call "candy" we call "sweets";

when they say "closet" we say "wardrobe";

when they say "cabinet" we say "cupboard" [as in kitchen].

Perhaps it is needless to say that playing Scrabble with someone from USA or Canada is something of a challenge!

Do feel free to add more such anomalies.

Now that I've shown how easy it is to write, please – as I said previously – do put on your thinking-caps, stimulate your grey cells, and let me have your contributions!

Living in hope...Ruth Hepner, Dirah 120

By Rabbi Shlomo Estrin

1-I'm found there in Parshas Vayeishev,
A small little part in a dream,
On Shabbos I might be there with you,
In a glass alongside your cuisine,
I'm there in the Chanukah story,
A clever device in her scheme,
And, of course, in the story of Purim,
Served by design of the queen.
What am I?

2- I went with Yosef down to Mitzraim,
In the Mishkan I'm something you roast,
Some bring me out for Havdala,
Some bring me out for their toast.
What am I?

3- I'm not an ox, I'm not a flame,
But I am on that list,
If you would want to trap someone,
I'm sure I could assist,
I trapped someone in our Parsha,
And the trapped one didn't get wet,
The more you take away from me,
The bigger that I get.
What am I?

4- It's in our Parsha, in a dream,
And in a song before we bentsh,
If it's in the corner of a farmer's field,
He'll leave some for the poor if he's a mentsh.
What?

5- I played a role in history,
And I, a lowly stone,
A man was put to death from me,
A man rose to the throne,
I did not strike Goliath,
If I'm to tell the truth,
I was not thrown or skipped or slung,
I maybe cracked a tooth.
Do you know what I am?

Answers- 1-wine 2- cinnamon 3- a pit 4- bundles of wheat 5- the stone in the bread that was the reason that Paro put the baker in prison
